THE FULL SPECTRUM STORY

REAKIRO, and the industry at large, believes that true full spectrum oils provide the most benefits for consumers. That's why we only manufacture full spectrum oils that offer all of the other wonderful cannabinoids and natural terpenes provided by nature.

A recent study published by the world-renowned Lautenberg Center for Immunology and Cancer Research stated in its summary, that "in all of the tests, the isolated CBD was ineffective both before and after a certain dosage, while the effectiveness of the full-spectrum solution continued to increase as higher doses were administered."
